“Go Light Your World!”

At the very end of the farewell service for Pastor Greg, we sang the familiar song, “Go light your world.” The refrain in that song is worth sharing:

*Carry your candle, run to the darkness,
Seek out the homeless, confused and torn.
Hold out your candle for all to see it, Take your candle, and Go light your world.*

This must be our spiritual posture. To face forward into a troubled world that needs us to see what’s wrong and not turn from it. And, the song makes clear, we have a bright shining candle to hold, and others will see this gospel alive in us—this wonderful spot on earth called Beaver Valley where God is doing good things.

And, even in this time of transition into what is next for our people (the assembling of a call committee, the deep work of a parish study, etc.) the call to be alive and confident in God’s mercy is all that is required of our congregation. We will be blessed for our faithful trust even as we cannot see what the future holds.

Together with you in faith,

Beaver Valley Church Council

Women of Beaver Valley's Rebirth Begins!

On Tuesday evening, May 14, twenty-one women of the congregation met to begin a conversation about what the future shape and mission of this group will be.

Pastor Greg opened the meeting with a look back at the generations of women who have so faithfully and in so many ways shaped the work of the Church. Their commitment to bible study and a devotional life was the source of their willingness to serve within the congregation and out into the world. From helping serve at funerals and running everything out of the church kitchen to sending handmade quilts around the world through Lutheran World Relief, was inspired by their commitment to monthly circle bible studies, usually held in the homes of members.

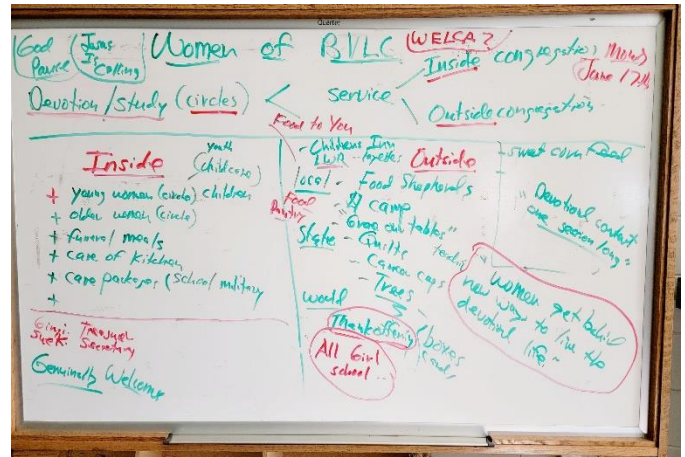

The conversation then shifted to the here and now. How are we now fed by the word? In most congregations, the old "circle" groups have gone away or dwindled in number. Good and creative talk surrounded this topic. These questions are worth remembering:

- +How do we find the time and find the right materials for bible study?
- +Could we provide childcare for moms with children who might come to bible study if that service were provided? (youth group support?)
- +Could we get back to using the ELCA women's Gather magazine as a source for inspiration across the women's organization?
- +This question rose to the surface, "Could the women get behind new ways to live the devotional life?" (We talked about resources such as the daily, digital devotion that comes to us from Luther Seminary called "God Pause". Several women spoke of this daily devotion as helpful.) What other good tools for spiritual growth are out there that women can use in their own way when time allows? Are there studies that are just one session long instead of a five or six month expected commitment?

Then we talked about service within the congregation. Of course, one of the Beaver Valley stories worth remembering is that we serve funeral lunches as well as it can be done: good food provided by members, tables set well, women and men serving those who are needing to feel the love of the congregation. Further conversation will take place about exactly how we use both Parish Life group calling (salads and cakes) as well as the solid lists of names we have from our Time and Talents sheets of those willing to help serve at funeral when needed. Other inside the church topics: care packages, sweet corn feed or produce stand as major fund raiser, support of our own youth.

Then we talked about a host of mission opportunities close to home and around the world. Close to home: Food Sheperds (really under the Evangelism committee but overlaps with women for sure), Children's Inn collections, "Grace our Table" event, Brandon Food Pantry collections, etc. Around the World: Lutheran World Relief layettes and health kit collections; Quilting; Thank offering boxes collected as part of the fall ingathering...often given in support of World Hunger initiatives. Etc.

Finally, talk was held about the importance of a women's leadership team....dividing up duties so that the work is done by many. More talk at the June 17th meeting about leadership structure. Along this line, more talk about how connected the Beaver Valley women want to be to the existing, synod wide WELCA organization.

Please note that the next "all women" meeting will happen on Monday evening, June 17th at 7:00 p.m. in the church fellowship hall.

COMING ATTRACTIONS!

News from the Outdoor Task Force Committee...

Thank you to Todd Dawley for grinding the last of the tree stumps to get ready for Summer Outdoor Worship!

As we continue to move forward with this project, we are finding that timing is everything! As you read last month, the dead and dying trees have been cleared and work has begun to prepare the site for future planting. Though foundational work will continue, it has become clear to the committee that the smartest and best decision is to delay the planting of the prayer garden project for next spring. We would like to share those reasons with you.

In our contacts with nurseries and landscapers, inventory for our desired plantings is either depleted or very low. In addition, because of labor shortages, most landscapers have full schedules for work through most of the summer.

We need time to assess all the elements hoped for/needed by the church, finalize a plan, and confirm costs.

We need time to bring the vision of the prayer garden before our congregation and raise funds to make it happen! Once the project begins next spring, the bills will come in, and we want to be ready.

There is a lot going on in our church right now. We have yet to physically move back into the church, and it will take time to get settled in. Oh, and there's the matter of looking for a new pastor! The committee feels it might be better to wait until the dust settles from those two major efforts before adding another to the mix.

Just want the church to know that the foundational work continues.

Pastor's Report:

- Dedication Sunday April 7th was a fabulous event.
- Leadership retreat on April 21st 55 people at retreat, demonstrate family/love-communication.
- Organization chart of the leadership was presented.

- Hand off the following responsibilities:
 - The congregation shut ins.
 - Monthly staff meetings.
- May 29th, Wednesday outdoor worship, and farewell. I thank the congregation for this worship-centered last time together. Good words spoken are important for Nancy and me and for the congregation as we move on to the next thing.
- Two import dates:
 - June 19th Midsommar with Larry Olson and Karol Baer concert
 - August 11th Open House
- Each committee is wonderfully important to our rebirth:
 - Property: use our people at entry points to the congregation. We've hired janitorial and volunteers for the proper upkeep of the building.
 - Stewardship: get your capital campaign letter out to the congregation, thanking everyone for the pledged and already giving support for our new rebuild. Heighten the gathering of the time and talents sheets this fall as our base will have broadened by October.
 - Evangelism: have a fresh set of words on a pamphlet and up on our web site telling folds about our Beaver Valley.
 - Music and Worship: The Wednesday night worship through the summer (Pavilion) and into our new Wednesday Sabbath worship in the fall will be critical conversation and set of decisions to b made.
 - Personnel: Thank you for your yearly review of staff. I have always taken that review seriously knowing that I am both "above" the congregation overseeing spiritual health as required in my letter of call to enforce discipline when there are happenings that can threaten peace in the congregation but, I am also very much "under" the church council and the review of the personnel committee.
 - Church in Society: your monthly activity schedule is vitally important to what this congregation is in Jesus' name out into the world. I would encourage you to use this summer to refresh each month's diverse set of emphases and invite people back to the table in support the Meals on Wheels, St. Dysmas, The Banquet, Sr. Recognition, etc.
 - Christian Education: What a huge year ahead for your group. "With a new facility to use (our biggest changes in the rebuild in terms of the life of the parish have to do with new spaces and "flow" for our Sunday and now soon our Wednesday school) the call for brand new energy and leadership will be required.
 - Finally, thank you for our years together. Thank you for your willingness to hang in there during these past, difficult years. Thank you for letting Nancy find her place within the congregation without pressure. Thank you for laughter and kindness in the hallway in the church where people have walked in and said, "see how these people love one another." My prayer is that Beaver Valley will continue to be that kind of place. With my deepest gratitude... Pastor Greg MMSC: Motion to adjourn the meeting was made by Mary Lee and seconded by Dan Feeken. Motion carried.

Devotions for June 13th Council meeting will be Dan Feeken.
